Wartenberg near Tampoyuca in Mexico October 14. 1858.

Professor. A. Gray
Cambridge

Dear Sir

Your letter wherein you give me orders for sending you plants I had received, and send you that time two letters particularly for pepper for drying plants in it, but I never received an answer and no pepper and nothing. For the difficulty to get pepper and leaves I could send no plant until now. This pepper I got very dear from New Orleans. I have more plants, but not more boxes, and I am collecting but with difficulty and trouble for that Apple pepper I have in hand.

The plants I send, 226 of all kinds, one parcelage with ferns and one parcelage with mosses for Dr. Sullivant, are mostly 12 of every species, and certainly of all species one specimen for you. Some could not be well pressed for want of pepper but I have made it as good as the circumstances allow.

Fruits I had collected a good many also, but for the long time, they were lying aboard, many are destroyed by insects, and only the few left I send this time. What you do want of seeds and fruits, you may mention me, and I will collect. Should any one wish the different kinds of pieces of the ligna, I am willing to collect.

What concerns the payment and sending of paper I did give already the address in my three letters: Herman Ludy Tampico.
You will consider about the payment, that the difficulties are greater, than any where else and that I not could feel very [illegible] on account of the revolutions which where even done me.

All plants are collected in the neighborhood of the German-colony Wertenberg, and I will give further of, when I possess means to hold a man to go with me and to buy a horse.

The plants which are escaped ~~from Mexico~~ from my journey from Mexico until here are in my hands, I could not yet say from want of room, and will be send as soon I can get keys a box.

Hoping that this box will come very well at your hands

I am

Yours

very truly

The parish the country where I am, belongs to different stakes, but the old name of it is Huastica and therefore my collections will be of the flora of Huastica the title which I send, was made for to give You an idea of my location, it could work be more better for you if I was nearer.

Dr. C. Liebmann

Professor Asa Gray
Harvard University
Cambridge
Massachusetts
via Boston